I wanted to acknowledge receipt.

I will place this on the August 29th meeting so we'll be ready for week of September 5th start.

I'll call you so we can decide start date after Labor Day but that week and schedule and scope of priorities.

Good evening, Judi! I am attaching the completed signed documents. Please let me know if I missed anything.

Jenni,

I've accepted all the changes and attached is a clean copy. Please sign if amenable to the terms and I will have the Prosecutor's Office execute as to form before scheduling for Board approval.

Also, can you complete the vendor compliance forms. Of course, as you know, I'll need these before I can open a purchase order.

On a trivia note, I think you will be the first applicable vendor who actually needs to consider the OPERS form.

Thank you, Jenni, for the update. I will make the changes and draft a clean copy for one last look. At the appropriate time, I'll send to the Prosecutor's Office for approve as to form.

I received your other communication and of the two Commissioners which have responded there is no issue proceeding.

I will report back when the third Commissioners replies, but let's keep things progressing.

Good morning! I have no problems with your redline version and the addition of special projects. I will definitely let you know if I am able to give you any time during August.

Take care!

Jenni,

First, congratulations. I'm sure you feel so relieved and can finally exhale.

Please find attached my minor redline changes; probably the most substantive is your consideration to include special projects into the scope of services.

I completely understand and appreciate your need to decompress. If there are any days you can give me before September 1st, I would be hugely appreciative.

Let me know if the revisions are acceptable. One disclaimer, my redline document does not reflect review or any modifications required by the Prosecutor's Office. I just wanted to let you know the legalese may change.

Hi Judi! I am going to take the month of August to travel, and heal a little quite honestly. I will be ready to start at the beginning of September. If you need to discuss/meet for pre-planning during August I could make that happen.

Jenni,

Thank you for your continued considerations.

What would be your start date again?

I'll review it quickly and reply by end of week hopefully.
